WAR NEWS DOMINATES

Causes Stagnation on Stock Market and in Various Commodity Markets.

PLETHORA OF CALL MONEY

Only a Handful of Minor Stocks Move Widely, With Evidence of Manipulation.

MEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The inert stock market to-day seemed to reflect no development in affairs, but the stagnation of the market was in itself a result of the uncertainty over the outcome of the Far Eastern crisis. The same effect was caused in the various commodity markets, which have shown themselves under the influence of the war news, and the foreign securities markets also were practically influence of the war news, and the foreign securities markets also were practically idle to-day. These markets were evidently waiting, all of them, for some more definite shaping of the luture of events. In the absence of speculative demand for loans, the offering of call money became so surges to-day as to suggest an early stage of plethora in the money supply. This abundance of money resources still signally fails to altrack any demand for securities, either of stocks or bonds. Only a handful of minor stocks moved widely to-day, with rather pulpable evicace, of manipulation to account for the movements. At the same time there was a conspicuous failing off in the rate of activity of the few prominent stocks which have made up the bulk of the dealings in the recent full markets, such as Amalgamated Copper, Pennsylvania and United States Steel preferred.

The uncertainties of the war outlook are considered sufficient explanation of the indisposition to trade, but influence is exerted also by the large amount of railroad borrowings nanging over the market, and which are competently estimated at above $50,000,000. This news of a $15,000,000 lean to the Pittsburg Coal company also suggests the industrials as possible additional borrowers on a considerable scale.

An possibility of an unheraded decision possible additional borrowers on a con-siderable scale.

Inc possibility of an unheraded decision being unexpectedly handed down in the Northern Securities case is another fac-tor, making for conservatism in specula-tive commitments. Prices to-day gravi-tated to a lower level from sheer luani-mation, and the close was on the down Frade.

Bords moved narrowly and irregularly.

Wall Street Gossip.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The market was extremely narrow and dull throughout the first hour with a very marked reduction in the volume of business from that in the corresponding period of the previous day. None of the important operators was ra, r.senici to say extoni in the trading. The Lewison brokers seemed to have Amalgamated Copported will in hand, and although that interest is thought to be on the long side, the societ is promptly would in the bond in the first seems short interest open for Boston account, but the Sinaka Otherson in the coole is the coole in the coole in CLOSE WAS DULL—The close was dull with no feature, and even the operatin of the floor traders to even up their h) is o er the end of the day falled to give any real appearance of activity.

Professional sentiment was a little bearish, but it was governily admitted that no long stock had been disloyed during the day.

A Merchant May Not Keep His Store Open at Night.

Store Open at Night.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SALISBURY, N. C., Jan. 12.—The Central Labor Union of this place is making itself felt here, and as a result of its efforts, togsther with other unions, it has been practically agreed by the merchans that a 7 o'clock closing hour shall be observed by all. One merchant, the greater portion of whose business is transacted at night, has taken exceptions to the order, and the various unions have taken a pronounced stand against him. It is learned that he has offered to close his place of business during daylight hours if allowed to keep open at night, but it is understood that the offer has been declined as being unfair to other mechants.

It is stated that the merchant referred chants.

It is stated that the merchant referred to has offered to allow the union to employ a bookkeeper for one month and put him in charge of the business, in order to prove that nearly all of his business is done at night. It is believed that at no place in the South does a union wield as much power as is the case in Salisbury.

PUBLIC AUCTION SALE Valuable Franklin Street Property,

No. 12 E. Franklin Street.

Ro. 12 E. Franklin Street.

At the request of the owner, we will offer for sale, upon the premises, on THURSDAY, JANUARY 14, 1896, at 4 o'clock P. M., that very attractive and desirable residence on the northwest corner of Franklin and First Streets. The improvements consist of a large, handsome, detached brick residence of 18 rooms, three bath-rooms, two latrobe stoves, and all other modern conveniences. The house was built by Horace L. Kent for a private residence, olaborately ordered and complete, with lavish expenditure of moiey.

The lot has a frontage of 130 feet on the north side of Franklin Street, and runs back between parallel lines, along the west line of First Street is feet to a wide paved alley in the rear. It is in the centre of the fashionable part of the city, and is perhaps the choicest and most beautiful tot now to be had on Franklin Street. It offers a rare opportunity for anyone desiring a handsome home. The large frontage of this corner lot on the most fashionable street in uncity offers a chance to investors to secure the test plecs of property now on the real estate market, suitable for a large apartment house, flats or handsome residences. The location of the property is the best that can be had. It is in a short distance of all sections of the business part of our city, and is close to the different churches, as well as being on the street car line. Tekmis—One-third in cash, balance in six, twelve and eighteen months, evidenced by negotiable notes with interest added, and secured by a deed of trust on the property, or all cash, if desired.
